SENATOR Edmunds it will remain.

THE Queen of Spain is very sick. So is Mrs. Jones.

KEEP an eye on the political burglars to-day and to-morrow.

EVEN Morocco feels free to mount the neck of an American citizen.

THE one-mile bicycle record was broken at Hartford yesterday.

ADMISSION Day in Los Angeles was not overwhelmingly celebrated.

WELL-DESERVED recognition of Gen. Crook's work is heard from Washington.

EVEN the ocean steamers have to have their share of the earthquake sensation.

THE latest number of Mexico's serial revolution is looming up bigger than a house.

THE Grand Jury which convenes to-day, should dig deep and spare no gophers.

ANOTHER terrene shiver shows ill-fated Charleston that she is not yet out of the woods.

THE misery in Carleston grows more touching with every day's dispatches. The country is handsomely responding to the demand upon its charitable sympathy.

H. S. BARKHAUS, the clever young California caricaturist who was well-known upon the coast by his cartoons in the Wasp, is dead at the very opening of a promising career.

AND now we are told that Geronimo did not surrender unconditionally after all. To those who know anything of the Apache situation, the story that he did has all along seemed aprocryphal.

THE citizens will need not only to put up respectable, honest, unhandcuffed delegates to the County Convention, but also to see that they have earnest and solid workers at the polls with their tickets, all to-morrow afternoon.

THE President, half a dozen guides, and as many dogs, wasted Wednesday in vain perspiration after deer. This is noted for the benefit of Br'er G. William Curtis, who will now have to concede that Grover is but human after all.

THE Republican who stays away from the primaries to-morrow cannot hug to himself the delusion that he is any better than the corruptest of the bosses. They have something to gain, but he will become an accessory after the burglary, from sheer laziness.

IN 1854 Washington Bartlett, the Democratic candidate for Governor of California, was publishing a Know-Nothing paper; and in the same year voted for the Know-Nothing candidate for Governor, J. Neeley Johnson. This record will hardly endear him to his party.

IF even the Apache renegades were sent in a locked box-car which was not opened between Bowie Station, Arizona, and some point in Texas—as the dispatches allege—it was a barbarity for which there could be no apology. In civilized countries a man dare not treat beef cattle in that way.

THE Express pretends to doubt the authenticity of Chancellor Hartson's remarks about Walter S. Moore. The remarks, as printed in the TIMES, were actually made by Mr. Hartson, on two different occasions here, and the TIMES stands ready to prove it by as reliable citizens as there are in Los Angeles.

THE caucuses to-night will be respectively called to order by members of the County Central Committee. Some bosses have stolen into that committee, and it is proposed by them to have the thing cocked and primed so that, as soon as the meeting is called to order, their heelers will insert the wedge end of the slate and drive it home with a rush, unless headed off. It will pay the voters to night to be on their guard as to the organization of the caucuses.

THE Republicans of every ward will meet in caucus to-night at 7:30. The voters of the First ward will convene at the Southern Hotel; those of the Second ward at the County Courthouse; those of the Third ward at the City Hall; those of the Fourth ward at the engine house on Main street, close to the Grand Opera House, and those of the Fifth ward at the Morris Vineyard Hose Company's hall, California street. Republicans who are not fully content to be disfranchised by the bosses, will be on hand.

THE Pasadena Star frankly asks why Moore's candidacy was not openly opposed before the nomination. The TIMES as frankly answers that the honorable men of the Republican party regarded his candidacy as a cheeky joke—a joke which stood no chance of becoming sober earnest. The best-posted observers in the State, outside of the bosses, laughed at his chances up to the day Judge Brunson was defeated. To attack him when his nomination seemed impossible, looked gratuitous cruelty. As soon as it became evident that the crooked combination which assassinated Judge Brunson might elect Moore, the TIMES spoke unmistakably. As to Mr. Moore's unfitness, let the Star consult the best Republicans in Los Angeles—not men who have axes to grind, but disinterested, honest citizens.

Their Love for Liquor.

[New York Sun.]

"Yes," said a Kentuckian who had been in the far West, "Indians are powerful fond of whisky. Let 'em once get the taste of whisky an' they'll give up everything for it. An old chief out in Western Dakota offered me a pony, saddle, bridle, blanket, and I don't know what else, for a pint of whisky I had with me."

"And you wouldn't give it to him?"

"Not much. That was the last pint I had left. But it shows how fond Indians are of whisky."

WASHINGTON.

The Government Likely to Find Geronimo

A WHITE ELEPHANT OF IMMENSE SIZE.

What the State Department Says About the Alleged Outrages on Americans in Lower California

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Gen. Drum, Acting Secretary of War, having been authorized by the President to use his discretion in the treatment of the captured Apaches, has instructed Gen. Miles to remove Geronimo and his band to some secure place of confinement, and while it is not yet known at present where they have been taken, it is surmised that the captives have been removed to Fort Bliss, Texas, or some neighboring point. It was not deemed prudent to allow the Indians to remain at Fort Bowie, as in the event of an escape to the adjacent mountains it would be almost impossible to recapture them. Despite the announcement made in the official telegram that Geronimo's surrender was unconditional, the belief is growing at the War Department, based on the chief's well-earned reputation as a strategist, that he has made some conditions with his captors that will at least prevent his trial in Arizona. In the absence of a more definite understanding on the subject at headquarters it is tolerably certain that the Indians will be held at some Texas fort as prisoners of war until President Cleveland returns and expresses his wishes in the matter. It is believed by officers competent to judge, that a civil trial of the captives would be a failure, as no evidence of legal weight could be adduced to bring the murders that have been committed home to any of these Indians. Little better results would attend a trial by a military commission, for the same reason, and it is felt that the only feasible solution of the question of the treatment of Geronimo and his band would be his removal to a reservation, probably in Florida, where, from the surroundings, escape would be impossible.

THE DEATH PENALTY DEMANDED.

Atkins, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, is quoted by the Post as insisting that Geronimo must be put to death. "The President," he says, "will probably acquiesce in whatever proposition Gen. Miles makes for disposing of the murderers. His proposition will doubtless be a court-martial, which will not fail to award the death sentence. There is no doubt that the public sentiment of the country demands the death of Geronimo."

THE OTHER SIDE.

An Explanation of the Latest Alleged Mexican Outrage.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The cases of Wood and Gaskill, arrested by Mexicans in Lower California, have been before the State Department for some time, and it is asserted that nothing has been left undone by the Mexican Consul at La Paz, acting under the instructions of the Secretary of State, to see that the prisoners receive the protection they are entitled to. They are accused by the Mexican authorities of having murdered a fellow American. The Mexicans claim that the body of the murdered man was found, and that all the evidence at hand pointed to Wood and Gaskill as the guilty parties. If there has been unreasonable delay or irregularity of procedure, as seems to be claimed in the prisoners' appeal to the Governor of Texas, the fact has not yet been known at the department.

SEDGWICK.

Bayard's Envoy Denies the Charges Against Him.

NEW YORK, Sept 9.—A. G. Sedgwick, special envoy to Mexico, publishes the following card in the Evening Post, dated at the City of Mexico, September 3d:

"A week ago I went to a ball and stayed to the end. I went home and to bed. Early the next morning my friend, Guirand, came to call upon me, and found me dressing, and we went out. All the officers and members of the Jockey Club, who are the principal people of the city, have signed a letter exonerating me from all improper behavior at any time during the ball. Gentlemen who saw me return from the ball have signed a card that they observed nothing exceptional as I went towards my room. I have Guirand's statement, in writing, as to his call in the morning, besides the statement of the hotel manager that no scene or row took place at the hotel; also, that I went to my room after the ball. No eye-witness has ever been produced, and I only know from hearsay what stories are circulated in the United States. Secretary Bayard has telegraphed me that my personal denial of the scandal is enough. Make any use of this that you think proper."

THE ASISTER REPUBLIC.

A Batch of Rumors About the Doings of Revolutionists.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 9.—The Globe-Democrat's special from Matamoros, Mexico, says: Bad weather has intercepted telegraphic communications up the river, but it is reported that the revolutionists had a skirmish with federal troops near Chaco Escondido, and that Mauritio Cruz, with 140 men, is near Reinosa. Heavy forces of cavalry from this city have been sent up the river. Yesterday a wagon train hauling goods from the San Miguel terminus of the Matamoras and Monterey road to Carmargo was attacked and captured by revolutionary bands, and some $1200 worth of prints and dry goods belonging to Carmargo merchants were carried off.

El Mounao, the revolutionary paper published in Brownsville, Texas, by Martinez, reports a small rising at Cruimas, San Carlos and other points. It sympathizes with the move, and says that the partisans are now quietly gathering arms, horses and munitions, and within a month a determined move will be made.

MARINE DISASTERS.

A Collision off Sandy Hook.—A Steamer Ashore.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Capt. Morrow, of the tugboat Robert Robinson, reports a collision of the steamer City of Alexandria with the steam dredge at the Hook at 4:25 p. m. During a dense fog the City of Alexandria struck the dredge, which immediately sunk. The crew were picked up by the Robinson. Two of them were slighily injured. The damage to the steamer is unknown. It could not be ascertained whether the steamer proceeded on her course to Havana Owing to the fog, the dredge is in a very dangerous position, for a large number of steam and sailing crafts are bound in from the yacht race.

SANDY HOOK, Sept. 9.—It is rumored here that a steamer is ashore off Seabright. In all, six guns have been heard this evening since 7 o'clock, which were taken for signals of distress, but nothing definite can be learned.

Oppressed the Natives.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—The select committee appointed by the Hawaiian Legislature to investigate the charges of oppression preferred by inhabitants of the Island of Lanai against W. M. Gibson, Minister of the Interior, has reported, finding Mr. Gibson guilty of the charges brought against him. A final decision in the matter will not be reached until the cabinet has taken action in the matter.

STILL SHAKING.

Another Quake at Charleston—More Money Needed.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 9.—The city is quiet to day, though the dream of absolute immunity from danger was rudely dispelled by a smart but ineffective shock of earthquake between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning. Shelter has been pretty well procured for all the homeless, but it is expected that rains will cause much suffering.

MUCH MONEY NEEDED.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Mayor Courtenay of Charleston telegraphs Dr. Andrew Simonds, President of the First National Bank of Charleston, who is now in this city, that, in order to shelter the homeless people before cold weather sets in, from $500,000 to $700,000 will be immediately required. The Mayor estimated the total damage to property by the earthquake at from $5,000,000 to $6,000,000. The Produce Exchange Charleston fund amounts to $7,186; the Stock Exchange fund to $12,800, and the Cotton Exchange to $6,492. The fund at Boston amounts to $20,000; at Buffalo to $4,000, and in other cities to lesser amounts.

THE RELIEF WORK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—At a meeting of the Charleston Relief Committee at the Chamber of Commerce to-day, Mr. Clyde, of the Clyde (Charleston) line, reported that the Captain of the Delaware, who was an eye-witness to the scenes of suffering and misery during the first four days of the earthquake at Charleston, described the misery as touching in the extreme. The Captain said that but one-half the particulars had been told. General accounts had been published, but it did not state the ways in which the people suffered, especially that the earthquake struck at all, rich and poor alike. People well to do, having plenty of stores and supplies on hand, were cut off from their kitchens and cellars by the danger attending entrance into the dwellings. Hence there were delicately nurtured people without food and half-naked, forced to remain out exposed to the deadly night air. For four days the Delaware lay in the harbor. The captain had his ship full every night of sufferers. He fed all he could in the daytime. The great need now was money to buy supplies of food.

The Tent Committee reported that the Acting Secretary of the Navy had notified them that there were large amounts of condemned canvas on hand in the department which would be at the disposal of the committee. The Mayor of Charleston will be notified at once of this fact V. M. Moore was added to the Sub-Committee on Charleston Sufferers, and made chairman. Additional subscriptions of $6012 were reported, making the total amount $93,703.

POLITICAL.

The Nevada Democracy—Edmunds Will Return to the Senate.

ELKO, Nev., Sept. 9.—The Democratic State Convention opened here to-day. Theodore Winters, N. H. Mason, J. W. Adams, Col. George H. Hardin and R. Sadler are candidates for the Governorship, with Adams in the lead. George W. Cassidy and J. H. McMillan are the Congressional candidates. The convention was called to order at 2 p. m. by Chairman of the state Central Committee Hagerman, T. J. Bell, of Nye, was elected temporary chairman. The Committee on Credentials was appointed, and the convention adjourned until 9 a. m. to-morrow.

EDMUNDS'S RETURN ASSURED.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Sept. 9.—Two hundred and five out of 240 towns have made returns, and the result shows that Edmunds is assured of re-election by an overwhelming majority.

IN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

TACOMA, W. T., Sept. 9.—The Republican Convention of Washington Territory nominated Charles M. Bradshaw for Delegate to Congress.

CONNECTICUT REPUBLICANS.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 9.—The Republican State Convention assembled this morning. Phineas C. Lowther was nominated for Governor. Thomas Clark was nominated for Comptroller. The Committee on Resolutions then reported a platform. It favors tariff upon imported productions of foreign labor, fairly and justly adjusted, to protect the interests of American workers. It denounces the present national administration for indefensible vetoes of meritorious pension bills, and condemns the undignified language in which said vetoes are expressed. It favors the maintenance of gold and silver in friendly relations, and the application of the surplus in the treasury to the reduction of the national debt.

NO RACE

Second Contest Between Mayflower and Galatea Postponed.

SANDY HOOK, Sept. 9.—The second race of the international yacht contest is being sailed to-day. The yachts got off shortly after 11 a. m., but the fog put them completely out of view off Scotland lightship. A tug boat captain who has just come in from off-shore reports that when he left the yachts, the Mayflower was about one-eighth of a mile ahead. Both were on their second starboard tack, standing towards Rockaway Beach. The Galatea started ahead in the race from Scotland lightship.

SANDY HOOK, Sept. 9.—The velocity of the wind is twenty-two miles an hour, and still holds from the east. The sea is covered with white-caps, and a very heavy surf is pounding on the beach here. There are no signs of a let-up in the storm. The fog has not lifted.

SANDY HOOK, 2:20 p. m., Sept. 9.—The fog is clearing away off-shore. The wind is still east, blowing fourteen miles. It is probable that the race will be finished by 5 o'clock.

NO RACE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—There are plenty of disappointed yachtsmen in New York to night, for the second race of the international series has been postponed until Saturday. After sailing in a fresh breeze from the eastward for four hours, the Mayflower and Galatea, with an accompanying fleet of nearly a hundred vessels, were enveloped in thick fog, ten miles east of Sandy Hook lightship, and were compelled to abandon the race. When the Mayflower rounded the outer mark, 20 miles east of Scotland lightship, at 4 hours, 26 minutes, 23 seconds, the Galatea was not in sight from that point. The Mayflower had outsailed her on every tack from the start, both carrying the same sail in a breeze that was steady from about east, with occasional rain squalls and a moderately heavy swell from that quarter. The Mayflower could not have finished the race in the allotted time of seven hours even if the weather remained clear.

A CHALLENGE TO THE GALATEA.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Gen. Paine called on Lieut. Henn yesterday morning, and proposed after the international races to keep the Mayflower in commission in Marblehead bay until there came up a gale of wind; then in this gale he proposed to race the Galatea from Marblehead to Cape Cod. Lieut. Henn was somewhat taken aback at this bold challenge, and asked time to consider the matter. It is the general opinion that a race across Massachusetts bay in a gale of wind would be a much better test of the weatherly qualities of the American and English champions than a race around Bermuda.

The President's Deer-Hunt.

SARANAC INN, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Late last night, it was decided that a deer-hunt should take place to-day, and by daylight half a dozen guides and as many dogs were in readiness for the chase. The chase lasted until near noon, and the hunters returned empty-handed. The President will probably remain in the wilderness at least a week longer.]

Bulgaria to Become a Russian Province—Irish Bishops Still Solid for Home Rule—Foreign Notes.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

LOM PALANSKA (Bulgaria), Sept. 9.—Yesterday when Prince Alexander arrived here on his way out of Bulgaria, the streets were covered with triumphal arches. Everything was done to make the Prince feel that the people wished to look upon his departure as transient. The President of the Assembly, in his farewell address to the Prince, said that the Bulgarians would never forget that they owed to him everything they had secured as a united nation and that they would continue to consider him as their ruler, although he departed, and they hoped for his speedy return. The Prince, in his reply, said he was happy when Bulgaria was content. He would be ever ready to assist Bulgaria when she might be in need. "I hope to see you all again," he said, in conclusion. The school children of Lom Palanska strewed his path through the city with flowers.

THE PORTE'S POSITION.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 9.—In his note to the powers protesting against any foreign occupation of Bulgaria, the Porte refers to the representations of M. Stambouloff and M. Radoslavoff, made to the Ottoman Commissioner at Sofia, with the object of obtaining, before Prince Alexander left, assurances from the suzerain court and powers that there would be no foreign occupation of Bulgaria nor any interference with the rights of Bulgarian independence, whose safeguarding was guaranteed by treaties. The Porte says it consented to Alexander's departure from Bulgaria, and has informed the Bulgarian government that there will be no intervention so long as its legality is maintained and Bulgaria fulfills her duty toward her suzerain, and suggests to the powers to favorably consider the step the Bulgarian government has taken because it is important to terminate the abnormal situation in Bulgaria and Eastern Roumelia. Moreover, the Porte adds, Russia has declared that she had no intention to intervene in Bulgaria if Prince Alexander left the country. In conclusion, the Porte asks the Powers to reply as promptly as possible in order to enable Turkey to give the Bulgarian Government the assurance required.

OVATIONS TO ALEXANDER.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Alexander's triumphant progress is almost without parallel. At every village in Bulgaria through which he passed, the peasants were awaiting his coming, and he was everywhere greeted with enthusiasm Similar scenes occurred on the Roumanian shore and in Austria. After the Prince had departed for Pesth, a hostile demonstration was made before the Russian consulate, and the police had to be summoned to disperse the crowds. At Presburg and other places large crowds were assembled to do honor to the Prince.

The Berlin correspondent of the Times says: "The opinion gains ground that the Czar's action was due more to personal than political motives, and that he only wanted to avenge himself on Alexander."

BERLIN, Sept. 9.—The Minister of War has received from Prince Alexander, a dispatch asking that he be allowed to resume the duties of a German soldier.

HOSTILE UTTERANCES.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—The Moscow Viedomosti says that Russia has still to deal with English intrigues and Battenburgism in Bulgaria.

RUSSIA WILL INTERVENE.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Surprise is expressed at St. Petersburg at the statement in Prince Alexander's proclamation that the Czar had promised to respect the independence and liberty of Bulgaria. Such promise, it is declared, was not made by the Czar.

The Standard prints an interview with a Russian representative at Philippopolis, in which the latter stated that Prince Dolgorouki would arrive immediately at Sofia as envoy of the Czar, that Russia would advocate amnesty, and that the War Minister of Bulgaria would be a Russian.

RUSSIA GAINS EVERY POINT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—A special from London says: "The abdication of Prince Alexander has produced a genuine disappointment in England and perhaps in Austria. Nobody doubts any longer that Russia has had Bismarck's support throughout, and that Austria acquiesces, though not willingly. Russia is not to occupy Bulgaria or to assume an ostensible protectorate over that unhappy country, but a Russian civil commission goes to Sofia as soon as Alexander leaves that city, and a Russian officer takes charge of the Bulgarian army. Russia will have what she likes, power without responsibility. Probably Alexander, in the face of Russia and Germany, without the support of a single European power, with Bulgarian opinion divided, thanks to Russia's agency, had no choice but to retire. With him go the last hopes of Bulgarian independence. Bulgaria will become practically a Russian province. The experiment which England attempted of establishing independent nationalities in the East, and as a barrier to Russian aggression, has broken down. Russia apparently wins every point in the present game. The Bulgarian population counts for nothing in European diplomacy."

IRELAND.

The Bishops Again Declare for Home Rule.

DUBLIN, Sept. 9.—The conference of Catholic Bishops, at Maynooth, adopted resolutions to-day declaring that the Irish people appreciated Gladstone's efforts in behalf of Ireland, and that they still adhered to their demand for home rule, and indignantly deny the Tory assertions that if the Irish people were allowed to govern themselves in domestic affairs the Catholic majority would abuse the power conferred on an Irish Parliament and harass the Protestants of the country. The resolutions further declare that trouble and disorder in both Ireland and Great Britain will not cease until Ireland's right to administer her own laws is recognized. Walsh, Archbishop of Dublin; Croke, Archbishop of Cashel; McEvilly, Archbishop of Tuam; and twenty-three bishops were present at the conference when the resolutions were adopted.

United Ireland says that no power in Great Britain can collect "landlords' tribute" in Ireland in the face of an organized, united and level-headed people. The Catholic Bishops assembled at Maynooth have sent a memorial to the English government, urging the adoption of temporary measures to relieve the Irish tenantry and prevent outrages to which they might resort in simple desperation.

FOREIGN NOTES.

Trouble at Tangier — Alfonso's Widow in Poor Health.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—A telegram from Tangier to the Pall Mall Gazette says: An American citizen named Pedicaris, a resident there, has been fined and imprisoned by the American Consul. He was charged with having offered armed resistance to native officials and officials from the American consulate, who were endeavoring to enter his house to arrest a Moor accused of extortion by the Consul.

QUEEN CHRISTINA ILL.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—The Queen of Spain is suffering from a pulmonary disease which is making alarming progress. The affection is similar to that which caused the death of King Alfonso.

A Daring Forgery at Hong Kong—Notes.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—The steamer Rio Janeiro arrived this morning with Hong Kong dates to August 10th, and Yokohama dates to August 21st.

A daring forgery was committed at Hong Kong on August 8th by P. R. Beltran, a clerk in the Spanish consulate. He forged the name of Mr. Marcarini, the Spanish Consul, to a bill of exchange for $30,000 on the Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China, drawn in favor of the Manila Government, and immediately disappeared. Nothing has been heard from him since, though it is believed he has departed for British Columbia on the Chinese bark Kwong Tong.

THE CHOLERA IN COREA.

A letter to the Bulletin from Seoul, Corea, dated August 3d, states that deaths from Asiatic cholera from July 15th to the 25th, numbered 3140. Since then from 267 to 497 persons have died daily. Coffins could not be obtained, and the bodies were wrapped in sacking. In many places dogs and vultures had scratched away the light covering of earth and devoured the bodies.

Mills; Vice Presidents, Henry Claussen, Jr., and Charles G. Stifel; Treasurer, Charles G. Hupfel; Secretary, Richard Katzenmeyer. The next annual meeting will be held in Baltimore, on the second Wednesday in May.

Death of a Young Artist.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—News has been received here from Munich of the death of H. S. Barkhaus, the talented young artist. Mr. Barkhaus was a prominent cartoonist of the Wasp for some time, and left this city but a few months ago to pursue his art studies in Munich. He was but twenty-one years of age at the time of his death.

Withdrew From the Unions.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The clothing cutters, who have been out on a strike, applied for work to-day, but were told by the various employers that if they wished to be taken back they must sign an agreement to sever their connection with the labor unions. They decided to do this, and withdrew.

Beating the Bicycle Record.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 9.—At the bicycle tournament here, to-day, the one-mile handicap professional race was won by F. Wood, of England, in 2.33, beating Hende's record of 2.34, and beating the best time ever made in a race.

A Hotel Burned.

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 9.—Robles Hot Springs Hotel, four miles east of this city, was destroyed by fire this morning. Loss, about $10,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

NO MAILS.

The City Again in a State of Siege.

There were no mails yesterday "from nowheres," except the local budget and the inconsiderable cargo from the north. The California Southern train got in on time night before last, but it had had no connection at Barstow with the A. and P. train from the East. The through train did not get through yesterday, either, and was last night reported "9 hours or more late"—which means that it would not get here before 6 this morning. The cause of the delay is not ascertainable, but is understood to be a wreck or washout away east. When the train does get in, it will bring two days' mail.

The Southern Pacific is in even worse shape. The east-bound express, yesterday, upon reaching Benson, Arizona—the point of junction with the Guaymas road—was stopped by the news of impassable washouts beyond. No particulars of the damage have been received, but it is a reasonable supposition that the break is in the barranca-broken gravel hills through which the track winds, about ten miles the other side of Benson. The engine was turned, and the train started back. It will reach this city this morning, but is not expected to bring any mail. Whether the mail will come in this afternoon, is not certain, though the authorities opine that it will.

Notes of Improvement.

Two cars for Col. C. H. Howland's electric railroad arrived yesterday, and are side-tracked here. A number more are on the way, supplied with motors. A. H. Hayward, of Melrose, Mass., representing the Daft Electric Company, is here to put up the electrical apparatus for the road. The track is now completed to a point on West Pico street, about a mile and a half beyond the city limits.

The Los Angeles Improvement Company is enjoying the biggest sort of a boom. Its sales of lots for the week ending last night were the biggest it has ever made in the same length of time—$19,400, of which $5000 worth was sold yesterday morning. The beautiful West End is looming up.

May Use the Pencil.

The San Bernardino County Republican Central Committee met at San Bernardino the other day. The Ontario Record says:

Some discussion arose as to the test for voting at the primaries. "Did you vote for Blaine and Logan, or would you have done so?" was proposed; but some of the committee thought that would "let them out." A pledge to support the Republican State and county tickets was suggested, but several of the committee thought that they might like to do a little pencil scratch on Walter S. Moore, and so a simple affirmative to "Are you a Republican?" was fixed upon as the test. The committee must be given the credit of favoring a manly, independent course in politics.

A Bitter Dose.

Fred Dohs, who has been in Santa Monica since last Sunday, returned to Los Angeles yesterday. He was unpleasantly surprised upon entering his house, at the corner of First and Hewitt streets, to find that some one had entered, it through a window, during his absence, and burglarized the place. Everything was turned topsy-turvy, but Dohs has not yet ascertained what is missing.

Bold Buggy Thief.

Whilst Chas. Wagner, proprietor of the Sycamore Grove saloon, Arroyo Seco, was enjoying the company of some friends at the Five Mile House, last night at 8:30, a bold thief stole his horse and buggy, which were tied up outside. The rig belongs to the Pioneer Stable. There is no clue to the person who stole it.

Eagle Corps Social.

The Eagle Corps gave a social last night at their armory, Mott Hall, on the occasion of Admission Day. About seventy couples were present, and a pleasant hop was enjoyed. The music was furnished by Doh's band.

A Cloud burst Delays Trains Near Albuquerque.

HOW ADMISSION DAY WAS OBSERVED.

Indians Acquitted of Murder—San Francisco Sweltering at 92 Degrees—Other Coast Gleanings.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 9.—There was a cloud-burst at this place last night, doing great damage. A number of adobe buildings were undermined and fell down. There are no trains from the east, north or west. Washouts are reported on all roads. So much damage was done that it is impossible to tell when trains will run on regular time again—not for several days at least. Up to the present time no lives are reported lost, but there is some mortality among stock in the Rio Grande valley.

ADMISSION DAY.

How California's Great Anniversary was Observed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—Admission Day was quietly, although quite generally observed by the people of this city, to-day. Banks, insurance offices and wholesale stores were closed, and the lower part of the city presented the deserted appearance incident to Sunday. None of the State courts were in session.

THE NATIVE SONS.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Sept. 9.—Several thousand Native Sons of the Golden West participated in the parade here to-day, in honor of Admission Day. After the parade, which was a grand success, literary exercises were held. A grand ball will take place this evening.

AN AQUATIC CELEBRATION.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—The Pacific Yacht Club celebrated Admission Day by a regatta on the bay, and the fleetest yachts of the port were entered in the contest. The course agreed upon was from Mission Rock to Hunter's Point, to the Oakland flats, to Fort Point, and over the same course returning to the starting point, a total distance of about thirty-six miles. The start was not made until late, when the yachts went off in good order. They passed over the course described, and the Lurline returned to the starting point in 3:37.50; the Aggie second; Halcyon third; Chispa fourth, and Nellie last.

Indians Acquitted of Murder—More Torrid Weather.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sep. 9.—In the cases of Kagama, alias Pactah Bell, and Ben, the Hoopa valley reservation Indians, charged with the murder of another Indian, known as Ike, in the Circuit Court to-day the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty in accordance with instructions of the court that the murder was not committed on the reservation, and was, therefore, out of the jurisdiction of the court.

HOT WEATHER.

To-day was another very warm experience for this city. The thermometer reached 92 degrees, but towards evening the weather became cooler and the heated spell is now believed to be over. Other points in the State also report extreme heat. At San Luis Obispo the thermometer was 109; at Anderson, 102; at St. Helena, 103; at Oakville, 106; at Sacramento, 96; at Red Bluff, 102.

ARRIVED.

The United States steamer Alert arrived to-day from Hakodate, Japan.

An Earthquake at Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—Capt. W. E. Plummer, of the steamer Mary D. Hume, which arrived in port to-day, reports that while about sixteen miles northwest of Point Reyes, at 1:20 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, nine distinct shocks of earthquake were felt. The vibrations passed from north of east to south of west, and were accompanied by a deep rumbling sound, much like the distant roar of cannon. The steamer was violently shaken, and loose ropes and spars moved visibly. The vibrations passed to the west of San Francisco, and were, therefore, not felt in this city.

The Sacramento Races.

Third race, eight starters—Won by Almont Patchen. Time, 2:24¼, 2:23, 2:26¾. Peacock took third heat in 2:25.

California Wine Exports.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—The Merchant to-morrow will publish a statement of the wine exports from California for the first half of the present year, which will show the total amount of exports to be 3,229,354 gallons, or 1,000,000 gallons more than were exported for the same period in 1885.

A False Alarm.

A large quantity of smoke was seen emanating from the cellar grating of Brown's restaurant at 11 o'clock last night. An alarm of fire brought out the department. An investigation showed that some one had left open the baker's oven, from which a large volume of smoke had emanated and filled the cellar. Its escape through the grating gave rise to the belief that the place was on fire.

The Building Committee.

The Building Committee of the City Council meets this afternoon, at the committee room in the City Hall. In view of the fact that the new City Hall matter, which is now exercising the mind of the people so much, is to be discussed, the Building Committee have requested the Finance Committee to sit with them.

Careless Contractors.

The parties at work moving the big high school building across Temple street left a big timber across the sidewalk, night before last, and a gentleman who went home that way nearly broke his leg over the obstruction, which was about six inches above the sidewalk. There was no sign of a light to warn pedestrians of the danger.

So Shocking.

[National World.]

"Have you any chloroform about you?" asked a lady of an acquaintance sitting next to her at a reading club entertainment.

"No, indeed. What made you think so?"

"I didn't think so; I only thought you might have. I forgot to bring some."

"What do you wish to use chloroform for?"

"Mrs. DeMauve is going to read that nasty 'Ostler Joe,' and I don't want to hear it."

WATERING STOCK.

Unwary Advertisers Caught by Another Cheap Swindle.

Some time ago the TIMES exposed a swindle which was attempted to be perpetrated by Geo. E. Place, an advertising agent. He had 1000 copies of a pamphlet printed in the TIMES-MIRROR job office, and told people that he had 5000 printed. He also made a desperate effort to get the foreman of the job department to sign a statement that there were 5000 copies printed. He collected from advertisers on the 5000 basis.

The same game is being played again, but by different parties—though the canvasser who has secured the advertisements is a woman formerly employed by Place. It is but fair to say that there is no evidence that she is knowing to the fraud. The scheme is a pamphlet entitled "Premium List, Rules and Regulations of the Sixth District Agricultural Association of Los Angeles County, for the Year 1886." This pamphlet is well filled with advertising. Among its patrons are the dentists Drs. Urmy and Townsend, who occupy a full page. The canvasser assured them that the circulation of the pamphlet would be 10,000, and that it would be distributed by mail to all parts of the county. Upon this representation they took the page; and since the pamphlet was published, have paid her the contract price—$15. They have since discovered that they were imposed upon. A. G. Bartlett put in an ad. on the promise that 5000 copies would be circulated. The investigation of the case has not been pushed through the list of advertisers, but the above instances show the shenanigan. As a matter of fact, the TIMES is in a position to state that there were less than 5000 copies printed. It is understood that the actual number was about 1200, but it is positively less than 5000. People who wish to advertise will find a good newspaper the safest medium through which to get their money's worth.

The Better Part of Valor.

[From the Estelline Bell.]

"There, I think that will fix him," said the editor of a Dakota paper to the foreman. "Here is what I say: 'The miserable, cowardly, sneaking whelp who makes a sickening and disgusting effort to edit the daub known to the half dozen or so who are aware it is published here as the Corktown Morgue, printed another batch of base and silly lies about us last week. We take this occasion to give the above mentioned howling idiot notice that we shall shoot him on sight. We have stood all of it we propose to. We shall go armed, and the lunkheaded, overgrown calf had better keep out of our sight if he values his miserable, worthless life.'"

"Hold on," said the foreman, looking out of the window, "better get out your gun; he's coming now."

"Why, good morning, Major, come in," said the bloodthirsty journalist, laying down the manuscript. "I was reading over one of my editorials, in which I call upon Congress to quit tariff tinkering and get down to the crying needs of the country. It's disgusting, the way it neglects business, isn't it?"

"It is, for a fact. I propose to refer to it myself this week. Well, I can't stop now."

"Oh, don't be in a hurry; sorry we can't do anything for you to day. Well, good morning, Major."

"Good morning."

CONGRESSIONAL TICKET.

For Congress, 6th Dist...GEN. WM. VANDEVER, OF VENTURA.

Distorting the Truth.

The Evening Express seems to have the colic over the widespread indignation of the public at the nomination of Walter S. Moore for Secretary of State. And well it may, for this feeling of indignation is taking the form of overwhelming disgust at the foisting of such a man upon the State ticket; and is manifesting itself in the falling away from his support in all sections of the State. And in this county how many votes does the Express think Moore will get in Pasadena, Orange, Tustin, Santa Ana, Garden Grove, Westminster, Artesia and Compton—some of the most enterprising and respectable portions of the county?

Does the Express think these people can be bulldozed into his support, notwithstanding his nomination, even with the unanimous support of his local delegation?

Now the Express, in its frantic efforts to foil the blow about to fall with fatal effect upon its candidate's head, should keep truth on its side, or itself will become involved in a charge of ignorance, or a wilful attempt to mislead the public in its statements of what is not true.

Thus, in its whining and floundering attempt at palliation and excuse for its support in its Wednesday evening issue, it says: "He (Moore) was made President of the Council when he was the only Republican member."

Now, where was Charley Johnson and his other Republican confrere of that Council, to whom Moore appealed for support to "satisfy Hartson?" Who ever heard that Charley Johnson was not a Republican? Let Moore stand and meet his record that his Democratic opponent will soon spread before the public for their edification. And, if his incinerated remains are not found after election at the foot of the stake to which public opinion will pillory him—then let no reference to a Nemesis be ever afterwards made.

THE Express has put itself exactly in the hole where the TIMES wished to see it. It announces that it honestly believes Walter S. Moore to be a fit man for Secretary of State. As the Express knows Moore's hoodlum habits, disreputable life, lack of ability and lack of trustworthiness, this statement fixes the status of the Express pretty accurately.

THE Evening Distress wails that the TIMES is opposing the Republican ticket. This is wilfully false. The TIMES is supporting the Republican ticket, all but one candidate, who stole into the honorable company by the rascality of himself and the bosses, and the gullibility of honest delegates.

IT is idiocy to say that the Los Angeles delegation gave their word of honor that they thought Moore a fit man. They voted for him because they had been swindled into a promise to do so—and the keeping of that promise galled some of them mightily.

TO-MORROW, General William Vandever will leave his home in Ventura and start for Los Angeles. He will open the campaign here—and it will be a superb one. The fine old man will develop strength that will surprise friend and foe alike.

MR. H. A. BARCLAY, whose name was used in the TIMES of yesterday in connection with a possible candidacy, desires us to say that he is "not a candidate for the Senate or any other office."

THE Arizona Citizen has an idea that the people will wish it had been war—bloody war—when they learn that Cutting will take the lecture field.

GEN. VANDEVER may not be as well-known in Los Angeles county at present as his decasyllabic opponent, but he will bear acquaintance better.

SWIFT continues to develop strength. He will be the right man in the right place.

The Building Nuisance.

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: In your correspondent's letter of Wednesday, on the incroachments on the public streets of Los Angeles, he says that no remedy has been proposed for such. If you permit me, I will propose what, if not a remedy, will at least prove remedial, and may lead up to complete remedy, if acted on. Let it be enacted that the space allowed by the authorities to builders be boarded up, and a protected footway erected outside of it, with a prohibition against any further encroachment, under a penalty recoverable by any citizen for such encroachment, such penalty to be of a magnitude which will deter from such offences. In considering the space allowed to the builders, it should be on consideration that all mortar be mixed in the contractor's yard, or within the space allowed, and delivered as required, that all supplies for the building be delivered within the boarding, and that none be permitted to be laid down on the streets except in regular process of delivery. On these lines a remedy may be devised—and the builders be prevented from doing their work at the expense of the citizens' comfort, and rights, which are so trampled upon at the corner of First and Spring. To-day it is as it has been for months—half the width of First street and half the width of Spring street taken possession of in preparation and storage of mortar, empty barrels and bricks, granite blocks and rubbish. It should be arranged that these materials should be delivered as required, not for the convenience of the builders or contractors, weeks and months before they are required, to the inconvenience of the public, as has been the case. There can be no doubt that the appropriation of such a space as that referred to, has been a very great saving of expense to the builder, probably to the owner of the block; but it has been at an enormous amount of discomfort and annoyance to the community, and which neither contractor nor owner should be allowed to pocket, or appropriate in any way. I have been in many cities, but I have never seen such a flagrant abuse of privilege, nor do I believe such can be found in any city of the old or new countries, of a similar nature. On Spring street, further south, matters are very little better, where three large blocks, opposite each other, are in progress. It seems almost a miracle that no serious accident has occurred at the corner of Spring and First streets, and which has only been prevented by the great care of the police officer on duty at that point.
A VISITOR.

THE DOWNING MURDER.

Particulars of Tuesday's Shooting Below Cucamonga.

The Ontario Record gives the following account of the murder of Charles Dowaing, of Pomona, by "Doc" Griffin on Tuesday:

"There was a rumor about town this morning of a shooting at Cucamonga Station. Mr. Hansler volunteered to drive us over to learn the facts in the affair, and on reaching the station we were fortunate enough to find there G. A. Collins, who had just come from the scene of the tragedy. The shooting was near the Santa Ana river, directly south of Cucamonga Station; the murdered man being Charlie Downing, of Pomona, and the murderer, James R. Griffin, commonly known as "Doc" Griffin.

Griffin had been cooking for the crew that Mr. Collins has at work baling hay. Downing had been at work there, owning land in the vicinity. He came up from Pomona Monday night, and was stopping at Griffin's cabin. Yesterday Griffin went over to Collins, and told him he wanted him to come around to his cabin, refusing to give any reason. On reaching the shanty, Griffin threw open the door, and there lay Downing, face downward, in a pool of blood. He had been shot in the face with a shotgun, and the top of his head was shattered, the face disfigured and blackened by the powder; the hands, also, seemed to be blown full of powder. An oxyoke lay near the body, but no weapon could be seen about.

Mr. Collins is constable, and immediately arrested Griffin and took him to San Bernardino. The coroner was notified, and will hold an inquest today, the body meantime remaining undisturbed. Both men are unmarried, but Downing has a sister at Pomona to whom his violent death must be a terrible blow.

The two men were supposed to be on good terms. Downing brought up a jug of whisky from Pomona with him, they had been drinking considerable, and probably got into a drunken quarrel. Mr. Collins says Griffin was so drunk he could hardly sit in the wagon when he drove up to Cucamonga station. He refused to say anything about the shooting except that he did it in self-defense.

Self-Praise Half-Scandal.

A Modern Melo Comedy in One Scene.

T. R. E.—Ah! ha! hum! good, my alter ego—my vicarious self—still at thy damnition grind?

R. E—Certes, my liege, if 't please thee, call it grind. Albeit a grind runs counter to the grain, and there the figure stops.

T. R. E.—The figure, not the grindstone, meanest thou?

R. E.—Nay, nay, the grindstone never. Round and round, and still round and round it goeth, with sweet adulation for thy noble self; so shall my liege be whet and polished up into a shining Congressman.

T. R. E.—Think'st thou so, my faithful servitor?

Some General Opinions.

The Woodland Mail says: The head of the Republican ticket is strong and will add greatly to its strength. John F. Swift's record is clear, from one end to the other, and it is safe to predict that he will carry California by a heavy majority.

A better and stronger State ticket than the one nominated at Los Angeles has not been known for ten years past. John F. Swift, the nominee for Governor, is a man of brains and integrity, and he has a clean and brilliant record. —[Russian River Flag.

John F. Swift is a man of great force of character, vigor of thought, strength in aggression, and with profound convictions of right. He is well known as an author, several of his books are standard examples of literary excellence, and he ranks among the brightest and ablest men California has developed. His views are broad and statesmanlike, and his grasp of public questions is that of the man of fearlessness, thought, broad intelligence and deep convictions.—[Yreka Journal.

Jackson and the Veteran.

"Perley's Reminiscences of Sixty Years in the National Metropolis."]

Removals from office that places might be provided for Jackson men were the order of the day, but President Jackson was not disposed to displace any veteran soldiers. Among other victims designated for removal by the politicians was Gen. Solomon Van Rensselaer, whose gallant services against Great Britain in the war of 1812 had been rewarded by an election to the House of Representatives, followed by his appointment as postmaster at Albany. He was a decided Federalist, and the petition for his removal was headed by Martin Van Buren and Silas Wright.

Visiting Washington, General Van Rensselaer received a cordial greeting from General Jackson at a public reception, and then, taking a seat in a corner, he waited until the room was cleared, when he again approached the President, saying: "General Jackson, I have come here to talk to you about my office. The politicians want to take it from me, and they know I have nothing else to live upon." The President made no reply, till the aged postmaster began to take off his coat in the most excited manner, when Old Hickory broke out with the inquiry: "What in heaven's name are you going to do? Why do you take off your coat here?" "Well, sir, I am going to show you my wounds, which I received in fighting for my country against the English!" "Put it on at once, sir!" was the reply. "I am surprised that a man of your age should make such an exhibition of himself," and the eyes of the iron President were auffused with tears as, without another word, he bade his ancient foe good evening.

The next day Messrs. Van Buren and Wright called at the White House and were shown up into the President's room, where they found him smoking a clay pipe. Mr. Wright soon commenced to solicit the removal of Gen. Van Rensselaer, asserting that he had been known as a very active advocate of John Quincy Adams; that he had literally forfeited his place by his earnest opposition to the Jackson men, and that if he was not removed the new administration would be seriously injured. He had hardly finished the last sentence when Jackson sprang to his feet, flung his pipe into the fire, and exclaimed with great vehemence: "I take the consequences, sir! I take the consequences! By the eternal! I will not remove the old man! I cannot remove him! Why, Mr. Wright, do you know that he carries more than a pound of British lead in his body?" That settled the question, and Gen. Van Rensselaer remained undisturbed as Postmaster at Albany through the Jackson administration, although Martin Van Buren, when he came into power, promptly "bounced" him.

FROM PASADENA.

Manly, Ringing Remarks from a True Republican.

The Pasadena Star talks in the following honest and manly fashion:

The Republican party cannot be governed by bosses. It is the people's party.

The Republican party has a supreme right to demand that its candidates for office be clean-handed, high-minded, intelligent gentlemen.

The people must rule. The place to begin is at the primaries, and every good Republican should attend. If you fail, cliques and rings and local bosses will get in their dirty work.

None but representative men should be nominated by any political party. Half a dozen men convened in star-chamber session at midnight hours are not and cannot become representative in character. They are too small and mean to merit more than public contempt.

The Republicans who reside in Pasadena warmly endorse the work of the State Convention, all but the nomination of Walter S. Moore for Secretary of State. If we have found one we have yet to discover the second Republican voter who is not openly denouncing his selection as a candidate for State officer, or even for any office at all. One of the two things must certainly be true. Either Mr. Moore is about the most misrepresented and most abused man in California, or the Republican party has a nominee on its ticket that should be promptly removed. What astonishes us most is the possibility of such a man as he is represented as being, securing recognition at the hands of a Republican State Convention. If he is what he is painted, why did not the men and newspapers who are so swift to fly to the rescue now bravely face the issue and as openly denounce him before the ticket was formulated? We ask the question in all candor. We are so thoroughly republican, have such great faith in the wisdom and justice of a convention of the people, that it requires unquestioned evidence of a grave mistake having been made to convince us that such a result has obtained. Loyalty to party, and friends is next to loyalty to truth and principle.

We confess that we scarcely have the patience to write concerning this matter. We must say, however, that no time should be wasted in the matter. Either Walter S. Moore is worthy to receive the Republican vote of this State, or he should be summarily removed from the ticket, and a good, clean Republican nominated in his stead. We are not in favor of any half-way measures. If he is worthy, let his friends, those who know the facts, be instant in correcting false impressions. If he is unworthy let the track be cleared, and a man be put on the ticket that Republicans can and will vote for. If a mistake has been made, wipe it out as quickly as possible. There is no other honorable course to be pursued. Either vindicate the nominee, or party. Absolute truth in the matter is all that is wanted in either case.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

There are 11,000 applicants for places before the Secretary of the Interior alone.

Business men of Atlanta are organizing to secure the repeal of the Prohibitory Liquor Law.

Senator Mahone declines to be considered a candidate for Congress from the Fourth District of Virginia.

C. F. Black, son of the late Judge Jere Black, is the Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania.

The Prohibitionists have put up a full State ticket in Nebraska, with a woman suffrage plank in their platform.

There are only eighteen Independent members in the new Alabama Legislature, against eighty-two straight-out Democrats.

Mayor Grace, of New York, denies that he will be a candidate for re-election or that he intends running for Governor Hill's place in 1888.

For the good name of the country, it is to be hoped that the circumstantial account of Mr. Sedgwick's escapade, telegraphed from the City of Mexico, is unfounded. But it is in keeping with the whole miserable business, and it would be appropriate, though mortifying, that Mr. Bayard's high comedy, in this Mexican diplomacy, should terminate in a roaring farce.

The New York Evening Post having assured its readers that there was little of consequence in Mr. Blaine's Sebago speech, and giving this as its reason for printing only a small part of it, the New York Graphic (Dem.) takes it to task thus:

"Possibly this is prejudice, but it may be stupid honesty. It is public opinion, we believe, that the speech is one of the cleanest, clearest, brightest and shrewdest of later political documents, and as the proclamation of the next Republican candidate for President it surely has more importance than the Evening Post confers upon it. But public opinion is of small account, of course, when it arraigns itself against the immaculate judgment of the Evening Post."

Robert L. Taylor, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Tennessee, is said to have owed his election to Congress more to his skill in playing upon the violin for the delight of the crowds assembled in his canvass than to any considerations of argument. The Memphis Avalanche (Dem.) now remarks jocosely:

"As for support, we have not heard Bob do any fiddling yet. If he can play 'Billy in the Low Grounds' as that delicious old-fashioned air ought to be played, and as Ty Barclay, of Leesburg, in Bob's own county, used to play it, we are for him. If we discover any unsoundness anywhere in his 'Billy in the Low Grounds,' we shall draw the line there. We don't care anything about platform. Hang the platform. What we want is music of the people—good old-fashioned Democratic music—to wake the boys."

Rumors.

From reports we infer that the President is having his No. 12 winter boots half soled with nails so that he can jump on the river and harbor bill with both feet. He has been tackling old soldiers' and sailors' widows until he is tired, and wants something of his size. The bill seems to have been fixed up on purpose to give the President exercise.

THE HUBBARD TRACT

Is by all odds the cheapest and most desirable tract on the market for the money. You can have fine large lots for only $175 and upwards, and each lot is covered with choice bearing grape vines, the streets lined with pepper trees, and graded. This property is advancing in value every day, and all we would ask of you is to examine it before you purchase elsewhere. We wish to give you bargains, and you will be convinced of it. You have heard that Los Angeles is growing southwest, and such is most assuredly the case. Look into the matter, and you will find this tract is being surrounded by our city. The soil is perfect; water pure, and the neighborhood as charming as a picture, and from this point you have the finest view of the mountains to be obtained in the county, and most every summer day, commencing about 11 a. m., a refreshing breeze. Just think! you can get lots here for only $4 per front foot. You can have them for $50 cash, and installments of $10 per month, without interest. The tract is a few minutes' walk from the Electric road, on Pico street or the proposed one on Adams street; or the horse car line to be built on Washington street, and you have good schools and churches, etc., close at hand. I am in from 9 to 12 a. m., and will take you out with pleasure at 2 p. m.
CHAS. VICTOR HALL,

THE HARDIN TRACT.

This fine piece of land is a delightful spot for a home. You will find it almost next to where lots are selling for $200 each, which is the best recommendation for these that we could call your attention to. Here you can have a lot for $225 and upwards, with trees, vines, etc. You will have to call early, for the prices are so reasonable that we will not have enough to go around. The streets will be graded and lined with pepper trees, and plank sidewalks added. Do not purchase anywhere a lot before you see these, if you wish a live bargain. They speak for themselves. Always in from 9 to 12 a. m., and will take you out at 2 p. m. with pleasure.
CHAS. VICTOR HALL,
10½ S. Spring street.

SOMETHING NEW.

60 Acres well improved. I will sell ¼ or the entire property at a rate to satisfy any speculator. It has vineyard and trees on it, and close to the city. Could be subdivided into ½-acre lots, and to be sold on the MOST REASONABLE TERMS. $20,000 will buy this grand property. If you call in a few days.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

FLORENCE.

AN INCONVENIENT STATION—IN A BAD PICKLE.

Correspondence of the TIMES.]

FLORENCE, Sept. 9.—A great deal of hay, mostly alfalfa, is being hauled to the Los Angeles market from this and the region southward.

A trip southeastward recently to the willow land brought to view "robust and healthy" growing corn and other crops in about the same proportion. Considerable of the land heretofore considered profitable for raising willows expressly for wood, and cut off about every four or five years, is being cleared and the willows grubbed out by the roots and made still more profitable by general tillage.

One person was united with the M. E. Church at Florence last Sunday by letter, and three applied for membership.

A bran-new railroad station—

"Hi diddle diddle, and built in the middle,"

right between the Wilmington and Santa Ana tracks, at the junction, is now the word. The distance is about one-half mile south of the old station where the town was started, and where the post-office, stores, churches, schoolhouse, etc., are now situated. Some loud complaints are being made by some of the settlers about this little change of base, but the postoffice will not probably be changed, unless by political administration, by Republicans, Prohibitionists or mugwumps; but Postmaster Clarke is now the man for the place, regardless of politics, and it is hoped that the community will reap the benefit by the changes as well as the Southern Pacific Railroad Company. Matters will be watched and reported.

Postmaster Clarke's wife has taken a few days trip to Ventura county.

The Green Meadow and Tajauta public schools commenced on Monday of last week, the Vernon on last Monday, and the Florence school will commence in about two weeks after improvements about the school-house are made.

William Ramsaur's new two-story house is looming up with magnificent country proportions. Mr. Somes, who was badly hurt on the head on the building, is now at work and quite level-headed for being so badly "brow-beaten."

A springy and swampy portion of H. O. Bell's place, at Tejauta, heretofore considered almost worthless, has been undergoing a profitable system of deep drainage and fluming which is bringing about the soil to natural condition for the best of crops.

The firm of the so-called Los Angeles Pickle Works induced several parties down this way to raise cucumbers for pickles for them, which they did and furnished for a while, but the pickle firm did not come up to their agreement, to the loss of the producers. There is too much of this kind of work going on, which causes shaken confidence.

Mr. Bnoff, of Tejauta, is doing well in the tomato business, delivering them in Los Angeles.

The young son of Mr. Beliere, at Tejauta, who has been severely afflicted with a lame leg, is so as to be out on crutches. J. F. C.

PASADENA.

GAS WORKS UNDER WAY—FIVE NEW BUSINESS ROOMS LEASED—NOTES.

Correspondence of the TIMES.]

PASADENA, Sept. 8.—Mr. Elmore, head of the gas works firm, has arrived here with means and material for beginning work on the Pasadena Gas Works, and men and teams will be put on the excavating to-morrow. Five miles of main pipe are contracted for.

Dr. Lauterman wants to co-operate with the Messrs. Painter in extending a dummy railroad across the Arroyo of the Devil's Gate, and on through the Cañada Valley and Verdugo Pass to a connection with the road being built from Los Angles to the Ostrich farm at the Los Feliz ranch.

The five rooms in the first story of the brick block being built on the corner of Colorado and Fair Oaks, for B. F. Ball and C. S. Martin, have already been leased, although they will not be ready for occupancy before the 1st of December. In Mr. Ball's building on Colorado, the room next to the bank will be occupied by Wellerby & Harris, boot and shoe merchants, and the other by a firm of dry goods merchants from Los Angeles. The Martin block on Fair Oaks, has three store-rooms. F. W. Machin has leased the one adjoining the bank building for a gentlemen's furnishing goods business; Frank Johnson & Co., merchant tailors, will occupy the central rooms; and that on the south has been taken by H. H. Busserott, stationer and book-seller. All the firms will have elegant quarters.

C. C. Brown's family are at home again, after a nine week's sojourn at the coast.

The new firm of E. C. Webster & Co., investment bankers and real estate dealers, are fitting up very handsome offices in the Exchange block, and expect to open for business the first of next week. E. C. Webster, R. M. Furlong, B. F. Smith and George Herrmann constitute the firm.

Colonel Markham and Ward & Adams have opened Pasadena avenue through their tracts to Bellefontaine street, and two new streets—Fairmount and Congress—have also been opened through the former running parallel with Pasadena avenue, and the latter parallel with Fair Oaks.

ORANGE.

THE WEATHER AND SOCIETY.

Correspondence of the Times.]

ORANGE, Sept. 8.—The hot weather seems to be over and the breezes are delightful.

Sunday, the 12th, will be the last sermon of the Rev. G. F. Bovard for the conference year.

The Baptists are about to commence a series of special meetings, led by the Evangelist James.

C. Clark, of Seattle, W. T., is the guest of Major Smith.

D. C. Hayward, of Tulare, with his family, is visiting friends in the valley.

Mrs. Sigler, of University Place, has been spending a few days with Mrs. J. S. Baldwin.

Mr. Warner and family, who formerly lived at Orange, have, after going back East and trying to make a home there, returned to this valley, and this time came to stay.

Our baker now makes tri-weekly trips with his hot bread, just from the oven, to McPherson and Modens; he also has customers along the way, who thus have their bread brought fresh to their doors.

The social event of the season was the wedding of W. A. Rogers of Los Angeles, and Miss Clara Lockwood of this place, at the Methodist church, last Wednesday morning, the Rev. G. F. Bovard officiating. The church, which was appropriately decorated with choice flowers, was filled to overflowing by the many friends of both parties. After the impressive ceremony came the wedding breakfast, then good-byes were said, and the happy young couple left for a trip to San Francisco. A.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES,
LOS ANGELES, Thursday, Sept. 9.

Although to-day was a legal holiday, very nearly the usual volume of business was transacted.

The favorable crop outlook for Wheat in this State a few months ago, again tempted speculators to enter the market for tonnage to arrive. We were told that the crop would far exceed that of 1880, when it is supposed there was a surplus of 1,700,000 tons for export. Some even estimated the surplus for the current season as high as 2,000,000 tons. Evidently more or less credence was placed in these statements, for the speculators early took the field and secured all the tonnage to arrive they could control without advancing the limit beyond 40s. Some of the vessels thus engaged arrived here as early as April, and were loaded in May and June. Of the eight cleared in those two months, one was chartered at 28s, four at 32s 6d, one at 33s 3d, and two at 35s. Of the eighteen vessels cleared in July, four were chartered prior to arrival, against eleven out of the eighteen cleared in August, and two out of the eight cleared in the first four days of September. Thus, out of the forty-four vessels cleared between July 1st and September 4th, inclusive, seventeen were chartered prior to arrival, including one at 27s 6d, one at 32s 6d, one at 33s 9d, six at 35s, two at 36s 3d, and two at 37s 6d. Probably the average spot rate for iron vessels for Cork during this interval has not been over 35s. No serious losses have therefore been made thus far.—[San Francisco Bulletin.

Sales of Calcutta Wheat Bags have been made in San Francisco this week as low as 5½ cents, and at the last auction sale, this being the highest price offered, most of the Bags put up were withdrawn.

Stocks and Bonds.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Government bonds dull but firm.

The yacht race again drew a large proportion of operators on the street away, and as a consequence to-day's stock market was dull and almost featureless, trading being confined to some ten or a dozen stocks which furnished over three-quarters of the day's business. The most important item of the day was the advance in the price of silver on the Pacific Coast. Prices at the opening were irregular, but showed only slight changes from the closing figures of last evening, except in the case of Kansas and Texas, which was up 2%, and Missouri Pacific which was 1% lower. Except in the stocks above mentioned the market fluctuated within a narrow range and continued steady throughout the entire day, but sagged in the last hour, and closed barely steady at close to opening figures. Money on call, easy, at 4@6 per cent., closing at 4 per cent.

Two Friends Meet.

"Hello! Old fellow! What have you been doing to yourself? You look like a subject for the undertaker," exclaimed the man on the right.

"Have been taking mercury and potash mixtures until they have nearly ruined me," squeaked the old man on crutches.

"And I," said the other, "have been taking the genuine Swift's Specific, which has built me up from the first dose."

Swift's Specific

Nature's own remedy, made from roots gathered from the forests of Georgia. The method by which it is made was obtained by a half-breed from the Creek Indians, who inhabited a certain portion of Georgia, which was communicated to one of the early settlers, and thus the formula has been handed down to the present day. The demand has been increasing until a $100,000 laboratory is now necessary to supply the trade. A foreign demand has been created, and enlarged facilities will be necessary to meet it. This great

COUNCIL.

A General Discussion Over the City Hall Muddle.

The Council met in informal session at 7:50 p. m. last night, Mr. Stearns taking the chair. Only eight members were present, these being Messrs. Frankenfield, Goss, Holbrook, Jones, Perry, Stearns, Velsir and Willard. It was stated by the Chairman that the meeting was called merely for discussion and not for action, which, owing to the day being a legal holiday, would be impossible.

Mr. Jones said he had taken the initiative of calling the meeting for the purpose of discovering why the general estimates for a city hall are going to exceed so much the first estimates of the architects. He understood that the present estimates would exceed from 100 to 300 per cent. those which had been calculated on.

Mr. Caukin said that he knew nothing about the original cost, but he said when the present plans were submitted to him that the building would cost $150,000. This would only give a plain redwood interior. To make a fire-proof building would cost considerably more. Wire lathing would be needed for a good building, and a large quantity of it would have to be used. This was necessary to prevent a general conflagration. Figures now held by Council include the steeple, but do not entirely furnish the terra-cotta work of the plans. The stone in the ground story was also replaced by pressed bricks. The terra-cotta in the steeple would cost as much as all the terra-cotta on the rest of the building. Under the last bids most of the terra-cotta disappears, and in some places, notably cornices, galvanized iron is expected to be used. The stairs are expected to be out of iron, cement or slate.

In reply to a question by Mr. Jones, Mr. Caukin reiterated that for $150,000 the building could be thoroughly completed, but with the proper wood—hardwood—for the interior, without ornaments, it would cost probably from $5000 to $10,000 more. If the building was put up in the rough and roofed it would not be cheaper to give new contracts for the furnishing of the interior.

Mr. Perry moved that the matter be referred to the Building and Finance Committees, to report on.

Mr. Jones objected, as the Building Committee had done all they could do. He did not believe that they could make the matter clearer to the Council by suggestions. The only way to have the building was to raise the money. The proposition made to the architects was that they should design a plan of a building worth $65,000, on which they were to get a percentage. Now a building for $150,000 is a different thing, as regards percentage, and it is desirable to learn how the percentage matter stood. The architects were distinctly told that a plan for a $65,000 building was wanted, and now they have furnished us with a plan for a building which we cannot build, and for which we cannot possibly raise the $150,000 that is needed for it. What are we going to do? Suppose that we cannot build, and it is plain that we cannot, are we going to settle with the architects on a basis of $65,000 or $150,000? It is a matter of importance to us. I don't want the Council to appear doing underhanded or foolish things, and this matter looks extremely foolish. The last plan, even at $150,000, can only be carried out in a cheap and flimsy manner.

Mr. Haas said that sketches were shown to the Building Committee by his firm, which were accepted, and they were ordered to go on with the plan, but nothing was said as to what the building would cost. One of the committee had said that it would not matter if the building cost $110,000, he believed.

Mr. Stearns thought that when an estimate for 65,000 was arrived at, those who had the matter in hand seemed to be unaware of the extent of the land that had to be built upon. If there is not enough money to build as large a building as will cover, the ground then a building of a lesser size, and which does not cover so much ground, would have to be built.

Mr. Perry thought the explanation of the architect did not reduce the price of the building. If the building committee had made a mistake, now was the time to get out of it. The matter should be referred to them to make a recommendation to the Council. The committee and the architects should join to get at a way out of the difficulty.

Mr. Goss had always thought that the building would not exceed $85,000, and until the bids were received, he never had an intimation that it would cost more.

Mr. Haas said that by taking out the fire-proof walls, in the interior, it would make a great saving, but would change the place into a real fire-trap. But neither architects nor any one else could cover the "hole at the corner" for $65,000.

Mr. Frankenfield thought that when the talk changed from $65,000 to $150,000, the matter was serious.

Mr. Stearns believed that the hole ought to be built on, but if there was no money to build a three-story building, other arrangements should be made.

Mr. Jones moved that the whole matter be brought up again at the next meeting and decide whether the money could be raised. It was not likely that it could, but if all the members were present, it would be better.

Mr. Holbrook thought they had an elephant on their hands. He wanted to hear from the Finance and Building Committees on the matter.

Mr. Frankenfield, of the Finance Committee, thought that the sale of bonds would net a premium of $12,000. Add that to the $65,000, and you have $77,000. If any other member knew how to raise more money, let him state it.

Mr. Velsir had never inquired how the matter stood, but he now found that they were in debt. It was no use staying here and arguing the matter farther. It should be brought up again at a regular meeting of Council.

After some more talk, the Building Committee was requested to bring in a report at the next meeting of Council, and the Council adjourned.

BAILEY'S DEATH.

The Coroner's Jury Investigates Wednesday's Suicide.

Coroner McFarland yesterday morning held an inquest upon the body of Eugene S. Bailey, the carpenter whose suicide by strychnine, night before last, was fully related in yesterday's TIMES. The inquest was held at McBratney & Howry's establishment, on Main street. Some new facts were brought out by the testimony of Minnie Stroke, W. T. Williams's servant girl, who said that she saw Bailey take the poison, whilst Horace Locke stood by with his arms folded, and to this statement she adhered, notwithstanding considerable cross-examination. The testimony of Locke did not evidence any particular desire on his part to have interfered in order to prevent Bailey from the consummation of his insane act. He said he thought Bailey was fooling, then again that he was twenty-five feet away and could have made no opposition, and also that he could not handle Bailey. The jury returned a verdict of suicide. Bailey was 39 years old, a native of Lowell, Mass., and leaves a wife and a 17-year-old daughter. He will be buried to-day at 2 p.m. from McBratney & Howry's.

A FAVORITE RESORT.

Iron Sulphur Springs and Their Healing Properties.

There are at present a good many invalids at Iron Sulphur Springs, and all are deriving benefit from the medicinal quality of the waters. They are excellent in the dissipation of malaria in its various forms, as well as numberless other ills to which flesh is heir.

The temperature at Iron Sulphur Springs is even pleasanter than at Los Angeles. They are nearer the sea, and enjoy delightful sea breezes, and the difference between the noon and night atmosphere is so small that even the frail invalid is not incommoded thereby.

A Trivial Charge.

Officer Frank Lemon comes up to-day to be sentenced for a misdemeanor to which he pleaded guilty—riding his horse too fast across First street. He had been dispatched on a mission to the depot, and had to hurry his best to catch the train. His horse became startled by a dog in front of the Nadeau House, and could not be fully checked at the crossing. Lemon has been a conscientious and earnest officer, and the case against him is a very trivial one.

For Charity.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society wishes to remind the public that winter is coming on, and a good many poor people will need assistance. Anybody who has an old stove to throw away or sell for old iron, can do a great deal better with it by giving it to the society, and it will be converted to the use of some needy family. All donations of money, clothing, provisions, or household effects, will be accepted by the society, with thanks.

BROTHER DORSEY,

And the Family Trouble He is Said to Have Caused.

The First Baptist church stands at the corner of Fort and Sixth streets. It is an attractive and roomy edifice built in 1883 at a cost of $23,000. The society is strong numerically, and socially is of excellent material. Since June, 1881, the pastor has been Rev. Patrick W. Dorsey, a native of New York, who has now reached his 35th year. Something like two months ago, there was an unpleasantness in the church, but it was fought out with closed doors and the true inwardness was very jealously shrouded from the vulgar gaze. It was whispered that one of the brethren was making a "kick" against the pastor on account of domestic troubles, but even this scant rumor was tucked out of sight hastily.

But now come developments which are apt to divide the church and cause deplorable factional dissentions—charges which the tightest closing of the doors will not avail to keep secret. Hamlet B. Brown is considerably known here. It has been a matter of quiet knowledge for a good while that he and his wife have not harmonized very well—in fact that they have led a cat and dog life together for many months at least. It has even been reported that she thumped her liege lord with her fist. The first part of this year Rev. P. W. Dorsey lived at their house, 451 South Main, where he is understood to have been very much at home. It is known that his presence in the house was a fruitful source of polemics between husband and wife. Finally, Mr. Brown, being unable to "lump it" any longer, turned the clerical boarder adrift, and forbade him the house. This brought the boil to a head, and Mrs. Brown remarked that if Baother Dorsey had to go, she would go, too. If the reporter's memory serves him right, she did leave the house; and that row was the cause of the suppressed fight in the church.

Mr. Brown conceived the idea that the intimacy of his wife with Brother Dorsey was more than a wife had a right to show, or a husband to endure. He thought that Brother Dorsey was around the kitchen and other domestic stamping-grounds more than his pastoral duties strictly required, and that Mrs. Brown was too simultaneous as to location. Mr. Brown is also responsible for the statement that, upon one occasion when he came in unexpectedly and without invitation, he saw Sister Brown and Brother Dorsey embracing and kissing each other. It is further alleged that, for several months, Mrs. Brown has refused to be on terms of wifely intimacy with her husband.

The upshot of it all is, that Mr. Brown has sued for divorce from Mrs. Brown, and that the papers in the case have been filed for some days. A TIMES reporter applied several times for an inspection of them, but was refused, on the ground that the statute forbids such documents to be made public. Ex-Justice D. M. Adams, who represents Mr. Brown, was also seen, but politely declined to give any information. What precedes, however, is gleaned from presumably reliable sources, and will convey a pretty fair idea of the case until further developments are made, if made they shall be.

THE TRAMP NUISANCE.

A Citizen Suggests What Should Be Done.

"I see," said a citizen yesterday, "that there are numbers of tramps again in town. They are a nuisance, with their begging for the price of a meal or the price of a bed, and their hypocritical stories about some imaginary disaster or other, and when they get repulsed, how insolent and vulgar their language is! The police are powerless against them, because they sneak away as soon as they see a uniformed officer, to re-appear as soon as his back is turned. They have places in the willows of the river-bed, where they congregate at night and carouse. Some years ago, the police used to go out there en masse at times, in the early morn, and bring twenty or thirty of them in at one swoop. The Police Judge never allowed himself to get puzzled by the law, and didn't keep awake of a night thinking whether Ordinance No. so-and-so, or State law this-or-that read this way or that way—he just slapped those filthy bums on the chain-gang for ten days, and when they had worked the banks of Bellevue avenue with pick and shovel for that period, they were mighty glad to skip the ranch, I tell you. Now, if the police by chance make an arrest of a tramp, he is let off on some technicality or other, and don't give a snap of his finger for the "beak" or the "cops." And that is the excuse the police always give for not arresting this eye-sore to civilization. It is well known that an able-bodied man who remains here for ten days without working, and who begs for his grub, is a vagrant, and as such punishable. When arrested, the Court, instead of making the vagrant prove where he has worked within the last ten days—and that would soon settle the question—makes it the duty of the arresting officer to prove that the fellow hasn't worked. That is a horse of another color altogether, and on that proposition the bum gets away every time. Now, there is a constable in this township who is after the tramps a good deal. He has a whole staff of deputies who scour the city for bums, and every day a few get landed in the county jail. But that costs the county at least $5 per bum, whereas if some policemen were detailed to hunt for them, in private clothes, they would achieve the same success as the constable's patrol, at no extra cost to the people. Why don't you make the suggestion in your paper, and maybe the Council or the Police Commissioners will act upon it? The winter is approaching, and the army of tramps is already on the move towards our orange groves and vineyards. Tramps are a threat to any community, and should be suppressed. Let Los Angeles get a reputation for severity to these Ishmaels of civilization and industry, and they will give her a wide berth."

POLITICAL POINTS.

What the Hustlers and Wire-workers are Doing.

There are prospects of a lively time to-night, all around. The bosses have their slates made and their dark-lantern tickets printed already. The anti-boss, honest voter—and his name is legion—is girding up his loins to take a turn in the matter, and to nominate a square and above-board ticket. Whether he will get "left" or not remains to be seen, as the bosses are pulling all together, and know the ropes. Every good Republican is expected to be at the caucus in his ward this evening; at the primaries to-morrow.

The procession of candidates lengthens as it marches towards the convention. Now Charles Bell, a letter-carrier, a son of Horace Bell, aspires to be Justice of the Peace, on the Republican ticket. Thomas Botello has similar yearnings on the Democratic side of the house.

The fight for the District Attorneyship is being pushed with as much unconceased vigor as that for the County Treasurership is by stealth. The bosses have pledged their delegates, so far as possible, to Wm. T. Williams. Sutherland Hutton, the second in command in the bosses' camp, is working the country districts for all he is worth in behalf of Williams; and Williams's campaign in the city is in the hands of Horace Bell.

Broke an Arm.

S. Thomas, a railroad laborer who was discharged at Soledad for drunkenness, yesterday went to the S. P. R. R. Co.'s office at the new depot for his time check. He was not very sober then, and the consequence was that he fell down the stairs and broke his left arm. Officer Bosqui took him to the County Hospital.

STAMMERING.

A Professor in Town who Proposes to Cure It.

Prof. J. Whitehorn, of San Francisco, is in the city for a short stay, and proposes to organize a class for the cure of stammering. Prof. Whitehorn has made a specialty of treating such cases in San Francisco, where he has practiced for five years past, and has met with great success, as testimonials in his possession show. He comes here at the special request of a number of stammerers. Prof. Whitehorn operates entirely by vocal and physical training, the system being his own. His office is established at the Hollenbeck block, where he will be pleased to meet all who are suffering from this peculiar affliction. He will make a diagnosis, without charge, and will tell the applicant fairly whether the case is curable or not. Those who wish to be treated should call at once, as Mr. Whitehorn must be guaranteed enough to warrant him in staying in the city before he begins treatment.

An Honest Contractor.

Officer Fletcher found Bill Wilson, a laborer, wallowing in the dust on San Fernando street, at 5:30 last evening. Wilson was too drunk to walk, and was removed to the city jug in a Transfer Company's wagon. After he had been removed from San Fernando street, Jack Skinner, a contractor, came along, and found $3.85 which Wilson had dropped out of his pocket. This Mr. Skinner kindly took to the Captain of Police. It will help pay the Transfer Company's expenses to-day.

Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Society.

A meeting of the above-named society will be held this (Friday) evening at the parlors of Dr. Wilder, Farmers and Merchants' Bank building, upstairs, for the purpose of arranging for the course of '87. An invitation to be present is extended to all who desire to take the Chautauqua readings.

Coronado Beach is situated directly across the bay of San Diego, one mile from the city. It contains 4(0) acres of rich, sandy loam, from 20 to 70 feet above tide water, which is subdivided and platted in an artistic manner into villa and other lots.

The ocean beach is one of the finest in the world, stretching far away into old Mexico. For bathing and driving it is unsurpassed. The surf is medium, with no undertow.

The climate is almost perfection, averaging about 68 to 70 degrees throughout the entire year. Frost or hot weather both unknown. The rarest tropical plants grow out of doors.

The view of ocean, bay and mountain scenery is magnificent, and in variety and beauty cannot be excelled.

The Coronado Beach Company have organized with a capital of $1,000,000, and every improvement necessary to build up the finest sea-side resort in America is being made.

The sale of lots will be opened by a public auction on THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1886, at 10 A M Sale unreserved to the highest bidder. Terms and conditions very favorable—made known at the time of sale.

CATARRH, Etc.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as cold in the head, and he often expresses his astonishment at his remarkable tendency to contract a fresh cold; indeed, he declares that he is scarcely free from one cold before he takes another, and yet he is always exceedingly careful. It is also a matter of surprise to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head and throat.

At times many of the symptoms of catarrh may seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off; but another class of symptoms soon appears, and he learns to his horror that, instead of recovering from the disease, it is somewhat changed in character, and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is sometimes felt in reading, speaking or singing; hoarseness at times occurs; a sensation of dryness is felt in the throat, or it appears that some foreign substance, as for instance a hair, obstructed the throat; there becomes a sense of languor and fatigue, breath lessens upon a little exertion, a short, hacking cough, a peculiar sound in clearing the throat, a feeling as though there were not room enough in the chest to breathe—these and other symptoms occur after the disease has made considerable progress. Then it is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work. Up to this time the progress of the disease may have been slow, and the patient may, in expressing his confident hope that it will "wear off," declare that he has had the catarrh for years and has not seemed to become much worse, and trusts that he will by and by recover; but this delusion is the fraud error that has peopled our cemeteries with consumptive forms.

We are positive in saying that three-fourths of the vast number who die of consumption might be saved, did they awaken to the true sense of danger when the disease first appears in the head and throat. One of the best writers, the ablest physicians of the age, have expressed similar opinions.

The people do not require to be told the symptoms of consumption, for there is scarcely a family in our northern climate whose circle has not been invaded by the destroyer—scarcely a home where some loved one has not felt its blight, and either passed away from earth or is wasting to-day in the shades of the hopeless victim of this terrible disease.

The symptoms of the first stage of consumption are various. The following are most frequent, and wherever any of them exist a thorough examination should always be made, with a view to arresting the disease, if shown to exist. There is usually a sense of weariness upon little exercise, a disposition to remain passive and idle, dependency of at times from no apparent cause, a peculiar sensitiveness to the effect of cold, and breathlessness as upon moving, or ascending a hill or stairs, a slight hacking cough with or without expectoration, excitability upon slight occasions, flying pains through the chest or back or under the shoulder blades. The symptoms are more noticeable toward or during the night, slight fever in the afternoon, cold feet and hands, or in many cases a blue lividity of the lips and roots of the finger nails.

Probably no discovery or improvement in medical practice of late years has been of more utility than that which is properly known as the "inhalation system of cure" in throat and lung diseases. In this climate, where at least one in every three persons in the ent
